

Photoshop® World Student Scholarship Program

The Photoshop World Student Scholarship Program has been created to give promising students the opportunity to expand their Photoshop, graphic design, photography and creative skills by attending the Photoshop World Conference & Expo, a three-day conference offering invaluable training sessions led by the world's leading experts in the creative industry.

Each year, KelbyOne awards 20 scholarships to talented students from across the country. The recipients receive free conference admission, as well as a one-year membership to KelbyOne (which includes a subscription to Photoshop User magazine). The scholarship is valued at $699.

The scholarships are awarded to college students based on a short (250 word or less) essay on why attending Photoshop World would be beneficial to their futures.

Students can apply for this scholarship by completing this form and the short essay. Please submit your entry via email to: Stephen Bell at sbell@kelbymediagroup.com. The deadline to apply for the scholarship is August 8th, 2014.

Please note: Recipients are responsible for their transportation and accommodations.
